STUDY GOALS & OBJECTIVES

Through stakeholder, agency, and public input, the Study Team seeks to establish a shared corridor vision and identify a range of alternatives that will:

- Increase safety
- Provide non-motorized transportation connectivity
- Provide for existing and future traffic along the corridor
- Analyze existing drainage, pavement conditions, and other issues along Lewis Avenue

STUDY PROCESS

PEL is a study process that is used to identify transportation issues, priorities, and environmental concerns. This proactive approach allows LCDOT to develop a vision for the needed transportation improvements while being mindful of their potential impact. LCDOT can work with stakeholders to develop the purpose and need for a project and develop a range of potential alternatives.
